FUNDING FAIRS PROVIDE INFORMATION ON FUNDING FOR VITAL INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS

Sacramento, CA –The California Financing Coordinating Committee (CFCC) recently announced free Funding Fairs in March, April and May to spread information about currently available infrastructure grant, loan and bond financing programs and options. The Funding Fairs connect attendees with program staff to discuss specific projects and issues directly affecting their communities.

“Communities are tasked with continuing to meet the demands of providing infrastructure in some of the most economically challenging times. These Funding Fairs provide a tremendous opportunity for organizations to facilitate the completion of projects by helping customers combine the resources of a number of different agencies,” said CFCC member and California Infrastructure and Economic Development Bank (I-Bank) Executive Director, Stan Hazelroth.

The CFCC was formed in 1998 to aid the completion of various types of infrastructure projects. CFCC members conduct free Funding Fairs statewide each year to educate the public and potential customers about the different member agencies and the financial and technical resources available. CFCC is made up of eight participating agencies: State Water Resources Control Board, California Department of Public Health, U.S. Department of Agriculture—Rural Development, California Department of Housing and Community Development, California Department of Water Resources, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, I-Bank, and the U.S. Department of the Interior--Bureau of Reclamation. These agencies fund a broad spectrum of projects ranging from energy efficiency to flood management to community facilities.
